

Last night, I received an unsolicited fax on my home telephone number at almost 1:00 AM from the so-called Technology Stock Alert. I am on the Do-Not-Call Registry. By any other name, this is an unsolicited telemarketing telephone call that is even more obtrusive than the telephone calls encompassed in the Do-Not-Call Rules. As it obviously is a telephone call from a telemarketer, why are not such calls --especially in the middle of the night! -- included in the Registry? Please consider either the appropriate clarification or responsible inclusion of such annoying, disturbing calls without the scope of your rulemaking! Thanks!
